

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Police Arrest a Woman's Assaultant Near Maspeth.

At the Station He is Accused by Another Woman.

Theory that He May Be Lizzy's Believer's and Hannah Robinson's Murderer.

About half a mile from the scene of the Maspeth tragedy where the body of Lizzy Believer was found last Saturday morning, another crime was attempted to be perpetrated. At midnight this morning, when Sergt. Sprague, of the 52nd street station, William, opportunistly appeared on the scene. The sergeant was walking near the Flushing Avenue crossing of the Long Island Railroad when he heard cries for help. Calling a man passing at the time, both ran up the railroad track in the direction of the cries, which grew louder as they drew nearer the spot.

As they turned a sharp curve in the track a spot rendered dark by an embankment, they saw two men holding a woman while a third was attempting to assault her.

The two who were holding the woman, one of whom was a woman, called out to the other who was caught. He gave his name as John Clark, twenty-six years of age, and his home as 774 Ford street, the woman who was quite good-looking, gave her name as Julia Congrove and her husband as 143 Troutman street. She faintly asked for protection by the police. Clark, who was taken to the station and the woman escorted to her home.

Clark had the bars closed on the prisoner when a girl, aged twenty years, giving her name as Annie Smith, of 62 Knickerbocker street, came to the station, and seeing the prisoner, said almost screaming: "That's him! That's him! He's the man who assaulted me!"

She was led away still screaming. Every one who had seen the two men who were holding the woman, but so far without result. In the Lee Avenue Court, before Justice examination, John Clark was held in custody. To an Evening World reporter, Clark attempted to explain the woman's claim that he was the second charge against Clark, has, it is claimed, been leading a life of crime since his alleged assault upon Lizzy Believer.

President Harrison's Train.

At 7:30, July 7, a special train President Harrison's special train arrived at the station at 8:50 to-day and at 9:00 at 8:55. A large crowd gathered at the station and the President was greeted with cheers.

SMALL BURGLARS ROUNDED UP.

Nine Boys Arrested for Breaking Into Stores.

They Confess Their Guilt, and Were Held in Police Court.

Brooklyn police this morning captured nine small boys who are alleged to belong to a desperate gang of burglars. When the youngsters were arraigned before Justice Walsh in the Adams Street Police Court today, some of them were crying bitterly.

The entire crowd was held for examination until to-morrow morning. For several days the police of the lower Fulton street station have been receiving complaints from people who have been robbed.

Henry Fisher, a pattern maker, of 84 Pearl street, complained that valise bags, suitcases and $25 worth of brass had been stolen from his shop. Edward Cole, butcher, at 116 Bridge street, suffered the loss of several dollars and it is alleged that the boys broke into Thomas H. Coffey's fountain-pen factory at No. 34 Jay street, and filled three pockets with pens.

Detective Noonan got track of the gang and yesterday afternoon arrested William Devine, fifteen years old, of No. 144 York street; Hugh McDonald, twelve, of No. 220 Plymouth street; Andrew Malone, twelve, of No. 30 Gold street; and William Barrett, sixteen, of No. 215 Myrtle street.

At 4:30 o'clock this morning Roundsman McLaughlin arrested Daniel Wilson, fifteen, of No. 29 Talman street, and John Doyle, fifteen, of No. 62 Talman street. Roundsman Farley followed this up by arresting James Kelly, nineteen, of Third Street; James Barrett, eleven, of 233 Myrtle street; and James Kelly, fifteen, of 245 Bridge street.

Wilson is said to be the leader of the gang. Noonan's prisoners, admitted to the police that they had hidden in Fisher's pattern shop before it was closed on Tuesday night, and had then waited until the hands left for home. Most of the stolen property has not been recovered.

Will Not Do the Paving.

Commissioner Adams's Version of His Proposal to the Strikers.

A rumor has been circulating in Brooklyn that the City Works Department would soon take from the contractors the work of paving certain streets, where the pavers are on strike, and would complete the work under city auspices by employing the strikers.

Many people living in the neighborhood of Maspeth are inclined to believe that Clark is the same man who was the second charge against Clark, has, it is claimed, been leading a life of crime since his alleged assault upon Lizzy Believer.

MUSIC BY STARLIGHT.

First Evening Concert Ordered In East River Park.

It Will Be Given Thursday Evening of Next Week.

Action of the Park Board Upon President Dana's Report.

There will be a concert given in the evening at East River Park, one week from tonight. This announcement was made by President Dana of the Board of Park Commissioners, at the meeting of the board this forenoon. It is the first definite step towards the much-desired and needed change, and is a victory for the laboring people who frequent the park and for the Evening World, the champion of their interests.

At the Park Board's meeting last week, President Dana was empowered to arrange for one concert in the evening, in East River Park, as an experiment.

This morning he announced to the other Commissioners that he had since then visited the park, examined the railing along the sea wall, which he considered perfectly safe if guarded by a sufficient number of policemen, and that he had ordered Capt. Parsons to make the necessary arrangements for an evening concert next Thursday.

President Dana said that it would not be feasible for the concert to be held this evening, as the time was too short for making the adequate announcement, to say nothing of performing the necessary arrangements. He had, however, ordered that the experimental concert be held next week.

It is confidently expected that next week's concert will be the beginning of a permanent series of evening concerts at this pleasant spot. The people in the vicinity are desirous of evening concerts, and their wishes, as set forth in the Evening World, should be gratified.

Engineer Kellogg, of the Park Department, today submitted to the Park Board an approximate estimate of the cost of improving and extending East River Park.

He says the planing, seeding and building two bridges, the extension of the extension at Harrodsburg in July of that year, in which race he lost her only heat to Bonnie.

In August, 1880, she came into prominence by going three fast mile heats in a race of four-year-olds, and she won the first heat in 2:14.

Budd Doble took hold of her shortly after that, and in a matter of weeks she was the champion of the track.

NANCY HANKS' GREAT EFFORT.

The Mare Will To-Day Try to Lower Her Record of 2.09.

Budd Doble Says the Belmont Park Track Is to Her Liking.

Philadelphia, July 7.—An effort will be made at Belmont Park today by the great trotting mare, Nancy Hanks, to lower her present record of 2.09. The trial is for a purse of $2,000, with an additional $1,000 if successful.

Since her arrival here the mare has gone a quarter in 3:14, and Budd Doble says the track is to her liking.

Nancy Hanks made her record of 2.09 at Richmond, Ind., Oct. 1, 1891. Lower than her own previous record by a quarter of a second and getting within a quarter of a second of Maud S's mark, which was then the world record, since beaten on a kite-shaped track by Sunol.

At the time Nancy reached her present mark many watched the time 2:08.34, she still looked upon as the horse to make a new record.

Nancy Hanks is a beautiful bay about fifteen hands high. She was bred by Happy Medium, near Nancy Lee, by Dictator and is six years old.

Producing blood is found largely in her pedigree. She was bred by H. H. Russell, of Lexington, Ky. She is standard-bred, and has a double infusion of Hambletonian blood. In confirmation Nancy resembles Goldsmith Maid, Jay-Eye-see and other speedy performers.

Since her first race as a filly Nancy Hanks has been beaten in but one heat. In 1889 she was beaten by a colt named Bonnie, who was then the champion of the track.

In August, 1880, she came into prominence by going three fast mile heats in a race of four-year-olds, and she won the first heat in 2:14.

THE HOPEFUL GLADSTONIANS.

They Look to Capture Many Parliamentary Seats To-Day.

Pollings Going On In Their Scotch, Irish and Welsh Strongholds.

London, July 7.—(Special.) Twelve London and sixty provincial, contests take place today. Among the provincial pollings will be the first installment of the county pollings, about twenty in number. There are only a few English boroughs to be polled, the bulk of the remaining boroughs being Welsh, Irish and Scotch, and these are Gladstonian strongholds.

The Gladstonians are hopeful that they will capture seats in Camberwell and Tower Hamlets. Their chances in the English counties are remote, as they will have to fight against enormous Conservative majorities. Polling is also held in Dublin to-day.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the returns show the election of 125 Conservatives, 97 Liberals, 19 Liberal-Unionists, 8 anti-Parnellites and 2 Parnellites.

The first return received was from the Kilkeny district, where Mr. T. Curran, anti-Parnellite, received 744 votes, against 640 for Mr. J. O'Connor, Parnellite. In 1885 the Nationalist candidate in this district was returned, without opposition.

In Watford City John E. Redmond, the Parnellite candidate, defeated Mr. Sheehy, anti-Parnellite. Redmond's majority, 363, in the by-election of 1891, when Mr. Redmond was opposed by Mr. Michael Davitt, Redmond's majority was 547.

In the North Division of Cork Mr. W. O'Brien was returned without opposition, as was J. C. Flynn, anti-Parnellite, in the North Division.

The election at Newcastle-on-Tyne, where two members are chosen, resulted in the loss of one seat by the Liberals, who were represented in the contest by Mr. John Morley, Mr. Gladstone's lieutenant and most ardent friend, and Mr. James Craig.

The Conservatives were represented by Alderman F. Hamond, who received the highest number of votes, his poll being 13,824. Mr. Craig was defeated, receiving only 10,084 votes.

The Standard's Home telegram alleges that a secret order has gone forth from the Vatican enjoining the Irish bishops to support Mr. Gladstone's programme.

DELEGATES BY THOUSANDS.

Great Influx of Christian Endeavor Societies.

International Convention Opens at Madison Square Garden To-Day.

Never has the city had so many women visitors as to-day. After Broadway and the hotels are filled with them, every train arriving brings more of them and before nightfall it is estimated that there will be not less than 25,000 visiting delegates in town, nearly two-thirds of whom are women.

The occasion is the eleventh International Convention of the Christian Endeavor Society, which opens at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the amphitheatre of the Madison Square Garden and continues until Sunday evening.

The delegates began arriving yesterday, and the 400 members of the Reception Committee had hands full, meeting the visitors at the railroad stations and a seething mass of delegates, and directing them to their quarters.

All but two or three of the States and Territories in the Union will be represented in the convention. The big Indian race city of New York, which arrived yesterday, brought delegates from England and Scotland. Delegates from Australia, China, Japan, Ceylon, India, Africa and Mexico were already in the city.

New York will, of course, have the largest delegation, numbering about 7,000. Washington, Idaho and Arizona send only one each. Connecticut sends 2,500 delegates, Pennsylvania 2,000, Massachusetts 2,000, New Jersey 1,500, Illinois 1,200 and New York 1,000.

There is a busy scene this morning at every railroad station landing passengers in this city, and the hotels and upper Broadway are fairly thronged with the delegates. These delegates are coming from all the public places and those points which are usually frequented by strangers, and they are all dressed in the uniform of the Christian Endeavor Society, which is a white shirt with a blue necktie and a blue sash.
